How to Make a Submission on the NSW Planning Portal

1 Go to the project page. Use a direct link (see links below).
2 To see the modification application (Or EIS for Carrick Quarry), open the drop-down menu and view relevant documents.
3 When you are ready to make your submission select, 'Make a submission'.
4 Log in or register for an NSW Planning Portal account. After registering or logging in, if you can no longer find the project page, enter/click/scan the link again.
5 Select type of submission. You can make a personal submission or lodge on behalf of an organization.
6 Choose your position. Object, support, or comment. Then enter your submission text or upload it as a PDF or Word file. Note: You can choose not to have your name publicly disclosed.
7 Submit.

Marulan Gas-Fired Power Station public exhibition deadline:

Thursday 12th of November

IMPORTANT: The Marulan Gas-Fired Power Station Modification has been lodged as three separate applications. To have your say on the whole project, be sure to make a submission for all three. You can use the same submission three times as long as yours is unique from other submitters'.

What to put in your submission

You don't need to be an expert. Write in your own words and keep it specific.

1. Start with who you are. I.e. where you live and how close you are to the site.
2. State your position clearly. For example, "I object to this proposal."
3. Give your reasons. Pick the issues that matter most to you and explain how they would affect you, your family, your property or your community.
4. Say what you want. i.e. Ask for the proposal to be refused, or for specific conditions if it is approved.

Tips for a strong submission

- Ensure your submission is unique. Identical submissions will only be counted as one. One personal paragraph is worth more than a pasted template.
- Be respectful and factual. Avoid insults and unverified claims.
- Refer to specific sections of the exhibited documents where you can.
- Ask your neighbours, friends and family to also make submissions.
